FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Brooklyn Historical Society Holds Annual Membership Meeting

All current, new, and life members are invited to attend the Brooklyn Historical Society Annual Meeting: 2 p.m. on Sunday, August 10, at the Stone Family property, on the southwest corner of Maple Street and Main Street in Brooklyn. Parking is available at the First Universalist Church (6925 Maple Street). BHS will conduct its annual business meeting, review the annual report, and conduct officer elections, followed by a work session to continue archiving the documents and collections of the BHS on the Stone property. Sara Stone Miller, the daughter of Curtis and Margaret Stone, is now the custodian of this historic Brooklyn property, which is not only the site of a magnificent house, but also the site of a former store and doctor's office. She has graciously agreed to host our Annual Meeting. For more information contact David Palmer at 570-498-6637 or davesolopalmer@gmail.com
